The Month in Review

Macro-Economic Review

The uptick witnessed in Sep'23 further accelerated in Oct'23, owing to a plethora of factors which include the continued PKR appreciation (which started to depreciate towards the end of the month), expectations that the policy rate has peaked, and improvement in macroeconomic indicators. The Current Account Deficit further improved in Oct'23, whereas, the sharp reduction in petrol prices and status-quo monetary policy decision fuelled optimism in the economy. Also, the return of the former PM Mr. Nawaz Sharif further settled any uncertainty on the political front. On the external front, the Current Account depicted a sharp rebound, clocking in at ~USD 8mn (vs. ~USD 0.2bn in Aug'23 and down 98% YoY), largely owing to the better Remittances, and Exports numbers, on a MoM basis. On the other hand, Imports remained depressed, decreasing by 5%. The Fx reserves remained nearly flat on a MoM basis (down a 10% YoY) at ~USD 12.6bn. Going forward, although inflows via potential investments and multilateral/bilateral flows and potential rollovers may keep the Fx reserves at healthy levels. But, the easing of import constraints and potential external funding gap pose a key downside threat to the external position, in our view.

Remittance flows are likely to improve on the back of the narrowed gap between the interbank and open-market USD rates (more flows through official channels), as well as an expected rebound in the global economy. In light of the recent administrative measures, the PKR surprisingly appreciated by ~2% MoM to ~PKR 281.

Headline inflation in Oct'23 clocked in to ~26.9%, compared with ~26.6% in SPLY and ~31.4% illustrated in the previous month. On a MoM basis, inflation increased by ~1.0%, primarily due to the substantial rise in fuel and housing indices. Core-Inflation decreased to ~21.8%, from ~22.1% in the month prior. Going forward, upside risks to inflation prevail as power / gas tariffs have recently been revised upwards, as well as the potential for hikes in fuel prices owing to uncertainty regarding international oil prices.

During the month, the FBR collected tax to the tune of PKR 707bn (PKR 3bn higher than the targeted PKR 704bn). With this, the FBR's 4MFY24 tax collection of PKR 2,748bn grew by 28% YoY (beating the target of PKR 2,682bn).

The Month in Review

Equity Market Review

The KSE-100 surged past the 50,000 level during the month, gaining +12% MoM (+15% in USD terms), to close at the ~51,900 level. The emergence of clarity on the political front, ramped-up administrative measures in the economy, sentiments that interest rates have peaked, strong corporate profitability and status-quo MPC decision boosted investor confidence. With regards to trading activity, the overall average daily volumes and traded value in the KSE-All Share Index more than doubled MoM to ~360mn shares / PKR 11.2bn.

The major sectors which drove the bourse during the month were Commercial Banks (1,778 points), Fertilizer (918 points), Power Generation & Distribution (700 points), Cement (546 points), and Oil & Gas Exploration (367 points). On the flip side, the sectors which witnessed selling included Technology & Communication (-76 points), Sugar (-6 points), and Textile Spinning (-4 points). With regards to investor flows, Companies remained Net Buyers to the tune of ~USD 14.99mn (company buy-backs), followed by Individuals (~USD 5.38mn), Others (~USD 1.87m) and Banks (~USD 1.39mn). However, selling was majorly done through Foreigners (~USD 12.16mn), Mutual Funds (~USD 6.67mn), Insurance (~USD 3.93mn), Brokers (~USD 0.77mn) and NBFCs (~USD 0.1mn). Going forward, the Index will continue to mirror the macroeconomic and political landscape. Any material and sustainable positive developments will sustain the rally, in our view. We highlight that the market continues to trade at relatively cheap valuation multiples. We highlight that a meaningful rerating may emerge on the back of material and sustained improvements on the macroeconomic front. Also, an interest downcycle may further fuel interest in the Equities market.

Debt Market Review

The State Bank held two T-bill auctions, raising ~PKR 520bn and ~PKR 914bn, respectively, during the month. In the first auction, weighted average yields realized in the 3M / 6M / 12M tenors clocked in at ~22.40% / 22.85% / 22.75%, respectively. Weighted average yields in the second auction for the 3M / 6M / 12M tenors clocked in at ~22.14% / 22.39% / ~22.07%, respectively. The sharp decline in the secondary market yields was witnessed prior to the status-quo MPC decision, owing to expectations that interest rates have peaked. A similar trend was witnessed in the GIS 1YR VRR auction held on the 5th of October, as the margin decreased by 36bps (raised only ~PKR 85bn against target of ~PKR 313bn, hinting at lower policy outlook for the year). During the month, the SBP held one PIB auction, raising ~PKR 89.9bn (competitive bids). Weighted average yields to the tune of 19.16% / 16.93% / 15.23% were realized in the 3Y / 5Y / 10Y bonds, respectively.

Performance Review

The major issues besetting Pakistan's economy, viz. rapidly declining PKR/USD, and entrenched, high inflation both appear to ebbing. PKR/USD seems to be stabilizing within the 275 – 285 range, while inflation & interest rates both appear to have peaked. We expect interest rates to start declining from early-mid CY24, while secondary market yields have already begun to incorporate expected interest rate cuts pre-emptively to varying degrees. As such, the investment landscape has undergone considerable thematic alterations over the last several weeks.

Therefore, the fixed-income funds under FIPF will now seek to reinvest maturities and coupons into longer-tenor fixed-rate securities.

On the equities side, FIPF maintains a strong bias towards high-quality cash-rich companies with good earnings visibility and non-cyclical businesses which are either beneficiaries of high domestic interest rates, higher commodity prices, or power and gas tariff revisions. However, exposure has and will continue to increase in some cyclical sectors that are likely beneficiaries of PKR strengthening. This strategy is expected to provide stable, attractive returns over the medium-term

Performance Review

The major issues besetting Pakistan's economy, viz. rapidly declining PKR/USD, and entrenched, high inflation both appear to be ebbing. PKR/USD seems to be stabilizing within the 275 – 285 range, while inflation & interest rates both appear to have peaked. We expect interest rates to start declining from early-mid CY24, while secondary market yields have already begun to incorporate expected interest rate cuts pre-emptively to varying degrees. As such, the investment landscape has undergone considerable thematic alterations over the last several weeks.

Therefore, the fixed-income funds under FPF will now seek to reinvest maturities and coupons into longer-tenor fixed-rate securities.

On the equities side, FPF maintains a strong bias towards high-quality cash-rich companies with good earnings visibility and non-cyclical businesses which are either beneficiaries of high domestic interest rates, higher commodity prices, or power and gas tariff revisions. However, exposure has and will continue to increase in some cyclical sectors that are likely beneficiaries of PKR strengthening. This strategy is expected to provide stable, attractive returns over the medium-term
